

Foundations for Implementing ISO 9001 Quality Management Systems

What is it?

ISO 9001 Quality Management helps you continually monitor and manage quality across all operations. It outlines how to achieve and benchmark consistent performance in the way you work and meet your objectives. You may have already completed our Introduction to ISO 9001 training or be familiar with the quality management standard. So now you can take next steps towards implementing your own ISO 9001 quality management system with this course.

Why do I need it?

You may not have a quality management system in place, but you want to apply ISO 9001 to your business. Both the standard and this course are designed for organizations of all sizes and sectors, so this is the ideal way to begin implementation from scratch. You will interpret ISO 9001 requirements and how to apply these, reviewing current processes and identifying ways to improve them. We'll guide you in using essential tools and techniques throughout the entire process, from planning to implementing and preparing your ISO 9001 quality management system for assessment.

How will I benefit?

With ISO 9001 you can become a more consistent competitor in your marketplace with increased revenue and high value customers. And that's because better quality management empowers you to work in a way that meets customer needs. By the end of the course you will understand how to apply the principles of quality management. And you will have the foundations in place to cut costs, grow profit and improve operational performance. Your staff will also have the knowledge and confidence to meet the ISO 9001 standard every day.

What will I learn?

This two-day course will consolidate your knowledge of ISO 9001 and help you understand how to build a quality management system. You will identify the roles and responsibilities involved, review your current practices and use new techniques for better quality management. Plan your implementation programme from start to assessment: learning how documentation supports the system; gaining confidence to write policies; and establishing controls to measure performance. We will be with you every step of the way.
