Implementing BS OHSAS 18001 Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems

What is it?

A BS OHSAS 18001 Occupational Health and Safety Management System can pave the way for safe and healthy working conditions across your organization. And with a robust framework in place you can manage all your health and safety needs, whatever the size and nature of your business. You may have completed our Introduction to BS OHSAS 18001 course and now you can take steps towards implementing your own occupational health and safety management system.

Why do I need it?

You want to apply BS OHSAS 18001 to your business and this course is designed for organizations of all sizes and sector so its the ideal way to begin implementation from scratch or build on existing systems. You will learn BS OHSAS 18001 requirements and how to apply them, reviewing current processes and identifying ways to improve them. Well guide you in using essential health and safety tools and techniques, from planning to implementing and preparing your occupational health and safety management system for assessment, where applicable.

How will I benefit?

With BS OHSAS 18001 you can boost customer, staff, stakeholder, and supplier confidence in the way you manage health and safety across your organization. You will create a framework for future legal and regulatory compliance, and demonstrating this will strengthen your business reputation. Once you have a robust health and safety framework in place you can reduce and look to avoid workplace accidents and illness that cost both time and money. And better working conditions will lead to better performance.

What will I learn?

This two-day course will consolidate your knowledge of BS OHSAS 18001 and help you understand how to build an occupational health and safety system. You will get an overview of OHSAS 18001, identify necessary roles and responsibilities, review your current practices and learn to use a range of health and safety management system implementation tools.
Plan your implementation programme from start to assessment and establish performance controls to make sure your health and safety keeps improving.

What our customers say

The course has provided a useful map for discussion on my return to work.

I havent been given a verbatim way of creating a system but Ive been shown how to tackle its creation myself with confidence.

The tutors delivery style was refreshing. Probably the best course I have ever attended strongly recommended.
