

AS 9100 Rev C Aerospace Management Lead Auditor Course

What is it?

BSI's "SAE AS9100 Revision C Lead Auditor" course teaches the principles and practices of effective quality management systems and process audits in accordance with SAE AS9100 Revision C and ISO 19011:2002, "Guidelines for Quality and/or Environmental Management Systems Auditing." Experienced instructors – who are also aerospace experienced auditors guide students through the 3rd party auditing process by balancing formal classroom tutorials, practical role-playing, group workshops, and open forum discussions.

Why do I need it?

Audits are critical to continually improving your AS 9100 aerospace management system. As your business grows and evolves, so must the way you manage quality – not only to maintain compliance, but also effectiveness. Independent and third party audits allow AS 9100 experts to assess all areas of your business and measure how they contribute to your aerospace management system. Their findings will help you identify gaps in performance and ways to close these so you can continually improve the way you work.

How will I benefit?

AS 9100 aerospace management system helps you become a consistent competitor in your market place. And by auditing this system to maintain compliance, you can also maintain your competitive strength – staying up-to-date with the latest AS 9100 requirements. You will continue to operate in a way that cuts costs, increases revenue and improves operational performance. Your staff will also remain confident that they can meet the AS 9100 standard, and your customers will trust the quality of your services more and more.

What will I learn?

This five-day course will not only consolidate your knowledge of AS 9100, it will also help you understand the requirements from an auditor's point of view – including links with other standardized approaches to quality management such as ISO 19011:2002. You'll get to grips with the key principles of aerospace management, learning what it takes to plan, conduct and report on an audit. And you'll become confident managing teams of auditors in your organization or as part of a third party audit.
