

IOSH Safety for Senior Executives Certificate

What is it?

The Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH) is a British organization for health and safety professionals.

An IOSH Safety Certificate can pave the way for optimum working conditions across your organization. And with a robust health and safety framework in place you can manage and meet all your health and safety needs.

Why do I need it?

This course is designed for to ensure senior management are aware of their legal duties as a result of developments in legislation and best practice to ensure compliance with these duties.

You will work with our trainers to find out what occupational safety and health means and how you can apply it to your organization. You'll also get an overview of the benefits that a safety and health management system can bring and understand the steps you need to take to introduce them to your business.

How will I benefit?

With IOSH Safety Certificate, you can boost customer, staff, stakeholder, and supplier confidence in the way you manage health and safety across your organization.

Once you have a robust health and safety framework in place you can reduce or avoid workplace accidents and illness that cost both time and money. And better working conditions will lead to better performance.

What will I learn?

This course will allow you to appreciate the fact that health and safety is a main line management function, emanating from the top layers of management and descending through the organisation.

You will also understand the documentation and procedures your organisation require to keep or carry out in order to satisfy safety legislation.

By the end of this course, you should be aware of the moral, financial and legal implications of health and safety in the workplace.
