Save up to 50% on standards, subscriptions and conferences

You'll enjoy significant savings when you become a Member.

You get 50% off the cost of British Standards, 10% off ISO standards and 10% off foreign standards from DIN, ASTM and many others. And for Members, postage and packaging is always included, should you wish to have standards sent to you.

You'll also get 50% off our subscription products including British Standards Online (BSOL) – the online database that makes using standards easier and more effective. With BSOL, you can subscribe to and download every British Standard in your industry for a fraction of the normal cost.

You'll also save 50% on BSI conferences – an important way for you and your organization to keep up-to-date with key issues.
