

Road Traffic Safety Management

Implementing ISO 39001 Road Traffic Safety Management

What is it?

ISO 39001 is the international standard for road traffic safety management. It has been designed in response to rising numbers of accidents and deaths on the road each year. It outlines how to achieve best practice in road traffic safety management and this course will show you how to implement your own road ISO 39001 Road Traffic Safety management system.

Why do I need it?

You may not have a road traffic safety management system in place, but you can apply ISO 39001 to your business. The standard is designed for all organizations involved with road traffic systems or large fleets of vehicles. This course follows on from our introductory training and shows you how to implement ISO 39001. We'll help you to review and improve your current road traffic safety systems. And we'll explain the requirements so you can apply them effectively, every day.

How will I benefit?

An ISO 39001 Road Traffic Safety Management System will help you to meet organizational safety and social responsibility targets. And as one of the first companies to implement and certify to ISO 39001 you can show stakeholders that you take these targets seriously. Plus, the standard outlines ways to improve efficiency with a more cost effective management system.

What will I learn?

This two-day course will help you understand how to apply ISO 39001. You will interpret the requirements and identify the right resources to implement the standard successfully. You'll learn to develop policies, procedures, targets and ways to measure performance so you can design an ISO 39001 road traffic safety management system specific to your business.
