

Road Traffic Safety Management

ISO 39001 Road Traffic Safety Management

Internal Auditor

What is it?

ISO 39001 Road Traffic Safety Management will show you how to achieve best practice in traffic safety. It will also outline ways to reduce traffic related deaths and injuries. The best way to make sure your road traffic safety management system remains effective is through internal auditing. This allows you to assess your ISO 39001 framework to make sure it remains compliant and keeps improving.

Why do I need it?

The auditing process is critical to continually improving your road traffic safety management system. The volume of traffic on roads is growing worldwide, which is why the number of road accidents is also increasing. So whether you manage a road traffic system or have responsibility for a fleet of delivery drivers, your ISO 39001 framework needs to evolve to stay effective. A management system that complies with ISO 39001 has the flexibility to evolve – and internal audits make sure you maintain the standard.

How will I benefit?

An ISO 39001 Road Traffic Safety Management System will help you to meet organizational safety and social responsibility targets. And as one of the first companies to implement and certify to ISO 39001 you can show stakeholders that you take these targets seriously. Plus, the standard outlines ways to improve efficiency with a more cost effective management system.

What will I learn?

This two-day course will show you how to maintain compliance with ISO 39001 requirements through the internal audit process. You will review how much you already know about the standard, close gaps in your knowledge and consider the requirements in the context of an audit. You will learn to plan, perform and report on internal audits, and you'll understand how these findings can help you to improve road traffic safety management. Finally, our tutors will help you identify and fulfil the roles and responsibilities of an internal auditor.
