

ISO 9001 Quality Management Systems Lead Auditor

What is it?

ISO 9001 quality management allows you to continually monitor quality across all operations, whatever your industry or organization size. An effective quality management system is achieved when the system's performance is also monitored, or audited. To do this well, an understanding of the entire ISO 9000 series empowers you to understand all principles and processes that can improve infrastructure, customer services and more. You'll learn all of this on our lead auditor course, making you an independent quality management expert.

Why do I need it?

Audits are critical to continually improving your ISO 9001 quality management system. As your business grows and evolves, so must the way you manage quality – not only to maintain compliance, but also effectiveness. Independent and third party audits allow ISO 9001 experts to assess all areas of your business and measure how they contribute to your quality management system. Their findings will help you identify gaps in performance and ways to close these so you can continually improve the way you work.

How will I benefit?

An ISO 9001 quality management system helps you become a consistent competitor in your market place. And by auditing this system to maintain compliance, you can also maintain your competitive strength – staying up-to-date with the latest ISO 9001 requirements. You will continue to operate in a way that cuts costs, increases revenue and improves operational performance. Your staff will also remain confident that they can meet the ISO 9001 standard, and your customers will trust the quality of your services more and more.

What will I learn?

This five-day course will not only consolidate your knowledge of ISO 9001, it will also help you understand the requirements from an auditor's point of view – including links with other standardized approaches to quality management such as ISO 9000 and ISO 9004. You'll get to grips with the eight key principles of quality management, learning what it takes to plan, conduct and report on an audit. And you'll become confident managing teams of auditors in your organization or as part of a third party audit.
