

ISO/IEC 27001 Information Security Management Systems Internal Auditor

What is it?

An ISO/IEC 27001 information security management system gives you a best practice framework to improve data protection and remove the threat of security breach. Critical to this is the way you monitor the system's performance. An internal audit allows you to assess the way you manage information security in detail. Take the next steps in your ISO/IEC 27001 journey to make sure your information security management system stays compliant and effective in protecting your company and customer data.

Why do I need it?

Auditing keeps your information security management on track, helping you to maintain the highest level of data protection. As your business grows and technology evolves, it's critical that your management system remains robust, effective and compliant with the ISO/IEC 27001 standard. Internal auditing skills help you identify gaps in the way you currently manage information security. They also give you the knowledge needed to close these gaps and the confidence to continually improve your data protection.

How will I benefit?

If you understand the scope of the ISO/IEC 27001 standard, you will also understand how it can impact the way you manage your company and customer data – for the better. And by auditing your information security management system you will demonstrate that you have a robust data protection framework in place. You will also build a culture of security awareness within your organization, maintaining compliance with ISO/IEC 27001 and strengthening customer trust in your ability to protect their data.

What will I learn?

This two-day course will give you an in-depth understanding of ISO/IEC 27001 requirements within the context of an audit. You'll learn how to keep your information security management system compliant and achieve long-term best practice. We'll help you close any gaps in your understanding of ISO/IEC 27001 so you can plan, perform and report on an internal audit. And you'll discover how your findings help to improve the way you protect company and customer data.
