...making excellence a habit.™

Deliver a quality IT service to your stakeholders with ISO/IEC 20000.

Information technology is a significant investment for most companies. Whether you are an IT service provider or an organization wishing to improve the level of service provided by your internal IT department, ISO/IEC 20000 can help by ensuring the delivery of consistent, cost effective and quality IT services. ISO/IEC 20000 is compatible with IT service management best practice (ITIL) and is often adopted by service providers that wish to demonstrate that they have adopted ITIL advice in an effective manner. It supports continual improvement and shows your organization's commitment to delivering best practice in IT service management.

ISO/IEC 20000 is the first internationally recognized standard for an IT service management system (ITSM). There are a number of parts to the standard including ISO/IEC 20000-1 which outlines the minimum requirements and ISO/IEC 20000-2 which provides additional guidance to assist you in implementing the requirements.

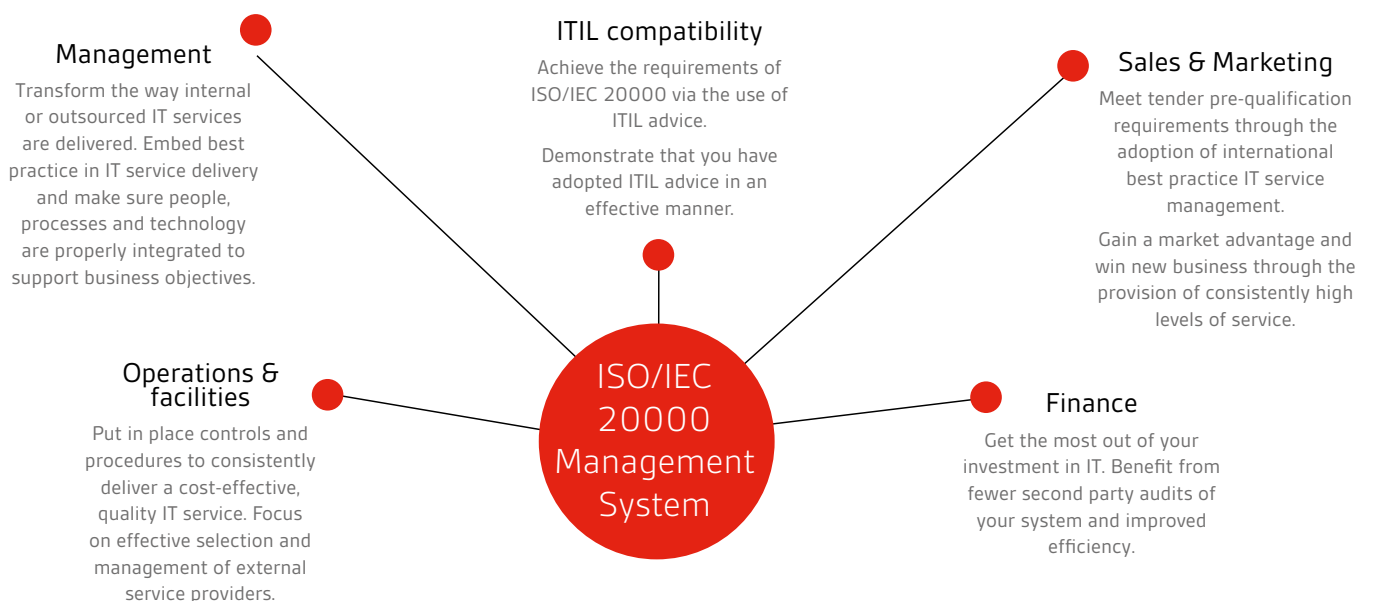

The implementation of an ISO/IEC 20000 compliant management system can support and complement ITIL, bringing about continual improvement, reduced costs, and increased confidence in your organization's IT service delivery. With the increasing dependency of business on IT, ISO/IEC 20000 is a proven approach appropriate for any organization wanting to demonstrate its commitment to delivering cost-effective, consistent and reliable IT services that meet business requirements.

At BSI we can work with you to implement ISO/IEC 20000 to improve the design and delivery of IT services.

ISO/IEC 20000 will provide you with a best practice framework for the implementation and operation of an IT service management system.
