ISO 45001 Migration training course

Essential information about the course

Level 1C

ISO 45001 is the world's first ISO management system standard for Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S). Its focus on risk prevention, innovation and continual improvement will benefit organizations with the foresight to achieve this global standard through increased organizational resilience. Suitable for organizations large or small and in any industry, it is intended to replace the widely implemented BS OHSAS 18001.

If you are involved in the planning, implementing, or supervising of an ISO 45001 management system, then this course will help you to understand and recognize the key differences between BS OHSAS 18001 and

ISO 45001. Delegates should already be familiar with BS OHSAS 18001 and by attending you'll be able to identify gaps in your current system ahead of migrating to ISO 45001.

This one-day course is packed with practical activities, group discussion, and classroom learning to help you identify what needs to be revised in your current OH&S management system. You will learn about the new ISO high level structure that now applies to all new management system standards, particularly new requirements relating to Context, Leadership, Planning, Support and Operation.
