

BSI Training Academy

ISO 22000:2018 Strategic Approach to Risk-Based Thinking training course

Essential information about the course

ISO 22000 Food Safety Management is one of the most widely adopted standards in the world. It forms the foundation for a system of processes required to provide safe foods and relevant products or services that meet customer, applicable statutory and regulatory requirements.

ISO 22000:2018 introduces the new concept of context of the organization. This requires your organization to determine the issues and requirements that can impact on the planning of your food safety management systems (FSMS). The implementation of your FSMS should be a strategic decision influenced by the context of your organization.

This one-day training course will provide you with knowledge and understanding, as well as practical application, of these concepts so you can plan a FSMS that meets the intended outcomes within the appropriate context of your organization.

The standard also requires your organization to consider:

- Alignment of the FSMS with the strategic direction of your organization
- Determining the processes needed to achieve your intended outcomes
- Addressing risks and opportunities arising from the context of your organization

Our course agenda

- Benefits to you, welcome and introductions
- Process approach, foundation and structure of the standard
 - FSMS key elements
 - Key concepts process approach
 - PDCA cycle
 - ISO 22000 structure
- Overview of strategic planning in the FSMS
 - Strategic planning of the FSMS
 - Context of the organization
- Actions to address risks and opportunities
- Planning of change
- Determination of external and internal issues
- Needs and expectations of interested parties
- Establishing strategies for the FSMS
 - Risks and opportunities
 - Definition, sources, determination and assessment of risks and opportunities
- A proactive FSMS
 - Risk analysis, evaluation and treatment
 - Likelihood and consequence ratings
- Effective strategic control and monitoring
- Application of the context into the management review
 - Nonconformity and corrective action
- Course review and final questions

Book today at bsigroup.com/training

ISO 22000:2018 Strategic Approach to Risk-Based Thinking training course

Understand the concept of context of the organization and how you can apply risk-based thinking as you plan, develop, audit and maintain your FSMS.

Make sure this is the right course for you.

This course is for:

Managers, executives and food safety professionals who need a practical understanding of the context of the organization and risk-based thinking.

It is particularly relevant to anyone involved in developing, auditing or maintaining a food safety management system.

What you'll learn?

- How to determine the context of your organization in planning and implementation of the FSMS
- An understand of the application of risk-based thinking
- How to apply risk-based thinking to the FSMS
- How to provide a structured method in developing an effective FSMS relevant to the context of the organization and risk-based thinking

Benefits:

This course will help you

- Understand your organizational context, risk-based thinking and process approach concepts necessary for establishing FSMS relevant to your organization's strategy
- Use management tools and techniques to develop the system in a structured way

Why train with BSI?

Our high impact accelerated learning approach increases learning by improving knowledge retention and skill application. This course is activity-based, resulting in a deeper understanding of the material and a greater impact on job performance.

On completion, you'll be awarded an internationally recognized BSI Training Academy certificate.

Prerequisites

We recommend that you have knowledge of ISO 22000:2018 prior to attending this course.

Next steps with the BSI Academy

Want to learn more? You may be interested in attending other courses within our FSMS series.

bsi.

BSI Group
Kitemark Court
Davy Avenue, Knowlhill
Milton Keynes, MK5 8PP

Find out more.
Call: +44 (0)345 086 9000
Email: training@bsigroup.com
or visit: bsigroup.com/training