

ISO 22000 Transition Experience Workshop

29 August 2018 (Wednesday) ~ FREE ADMISSION

ISO 22000:2018 is the internationally recognized standard for the food industry, covering all organizations in the food chain from farmers to catering and defines the requirements of a food safety management system.

Following the supports and responses from our previous ISO 22000 Transition seminar in July, we would like to invite you to participate our half-day ISO 22000 workshop.

We have already covered the key features of ISO 22000: 2018 last seminar. This time, we will introduce various types of food safety management systems and their comparisons. During the workshop, we will also cover one of the key transition requirements – Risk & Opportunity as a practical task. This let you explore the implementation of ISO 22000:2018.

Who should attend?

- Participants should have some prior knowledge of ISO 22000 or
- Assigned with managing of their food safety system into the organization or
- Considering /planning to implement ISO 22000 transition into the organization or
- Planning to take ISO 22000 internal auditor or lead auditor training course
