ISO 22301:2019 – The New Perspective of Business Continuity

16 March 2020 | 9.00 am - 12.00 noon | BSI Training Academy, Kuala Lumpur

The ability of an organization to continue operating during a disruption has never been more important. So it's no surprise that ISO 22301, the internationally recognized standard for a business continuity management system (BCMS), is being updated to make sure it remains relevant to today's business environment.

As the first ISO standard based on the High Level Structure (HLS), it has a strong foundation that now aligns with many other internationally recognized management system standards such as ISO 9001 quality management and ISO/IEC 27001 information security management. However, there are areas of improvement highlighted by users, particularly around less prescriptive procedures and updated terms and definitions, that need considering to ensure it remains relevant in a changing business landscape.

Therefore, our seminar this time will give you the first glimpse of the latest ISO 22301:2019 requirements and the main changes in comparison to its predecessor - ISO 22301:2012.

Agenda:

- Detail the development process and perspectives that were considered in the revision of the ISO 22301 series
- Identify the envisaged key changes to ISO 22301
- Communicate new and changed BCMS specific requirements arising from an ISO 22301:2012 to ISO/FDIS 22301:2019 transition
- Discuss what these changes mean for your organization
