ISO/IEC 27001 Capacity building programme

ISO/IEC 27001 Capacity building programme

To be successful in today's dynamic world, organizations need to embed resilience. And there are three fundamental elements to building a resilient organization: process, product and people. At BSI Training Academy we focus on helping clients all over the world build resilience through their people.

By combining the right training and support services through our capacity building programme, we help you invest in your people. We work with you to identify the needs of your organization so your teams gain the knowledge and skills required to embed management systems and drive sustainable growth.

What is capacity building?

Capacity building is a systematic approach of knowledge and skills development. It ensures an organization has the internal expertise to effectively implement change and improve performance.

ISO/IEC 27001 is the leading international standard for an information security management system (ISMS). It helps you manage and protect your information assets so that they remain safe and secure.

Implementing this globally recognized standard will give you a robust approach to manage information security and build resilience. It'll help you embed security awareness across your organization and continually review and refine the way you protect information, reassuring stakeholders and protecting your reputation. So make sure your teams have the skills to implement and operate an effective ISO/IEC 27001 ISMS with our capacity building programme.

The benefits of capacity building:

- In-house expertise
- Better engagement from your teams
- Enhanced flexibility and convenience
- Added value to your organization
