

The Digital World: BIM

Seminar, 18 October 2019

Continually Improve Your Standard In Built Environment

BSI has been at the forefront of Building Information Modelling (BIM) since the beginning, developing a range of BIM related standards covering all the key elements from design, information management, facilities management and security. We have been working in collaboration with the industry leaders to develop and support the understanding, adoption and integration to cover all life cycle aspect - from design to final de-commissioning.

Join us for The Digital World: BIM, on 18 October and learn from the top digital construction thinkers and doers in a series of topics offering real-world insights, best practices that excel beyond industry boundaries.
