

Business Continuity Management Consultancy Services

Why Business Continuity Management?

A disruption to your business can have far reaching consequences such as reputation, financial stability and, for some, business viability.

Managing business continuity can help ensure that your business is resilient, safeguarding your reputation and delivering stakeholder value by:

- mitigating risks and financial exposure
- building customer confidence and trust
- reducing the costs and duration of disruptions

Why BSI CSIR?

BSI CSIR has significant experience in supporting businesses become more resilient regarding their information, understanding their risks, and advising on appropriate and proportionate mitigations to manage risk.

As part of this, BSI CSIR has been helping businesses understand the impact a disruption could have and supporting development of business continuity plans to manage disruptions effectively.

Our consultants have extensive experience in business continuity management and are qualified in ISO 22301 Business Continuity Management System implementation. They are also members of the Business Continuity Institute, the professional body for business continuity management and publisher of business continuity 'Good Practice Guide'.

BSI CSIR Services

The services we offer have been developed using the best practices from the Business Continuity Institute 'Good Practice Guide' and ISO 22301 Business Continuity Management System standard.

By utilizing our Business Continuity Management Lifecycle, we can build a package of services that is appropriate for your business and help give you assurance that plans and systems are in place are fit for purpose in order to manage disruptions to your business.

BSI CSIR Business Continuity Management Lifecycle

Find out more