Introducing a new service to optimize performance at no extra cost

Make the most of your management systems in a way that's currently unique to our business. BSI Excellerator is designed to give you insight into your business that will accelerate the performance of your management systems, and allow you to benchmark this performance against other organizations in your sector. It works by combining information you provide and our audit findings to optimize the way you operate. And together we can help your organization achieve its full potential.

What is BSI Excellerator?

BSI Excellerator is an in-depth report that analyses the way your management systems are performing. The report is unique to your company and gives you an invaluable resource with which to measure your management systems performance.

We take information you provide about the level of benefits you feel your systems are delivering and benchmark this data against similar organizations in your sector – drawing from our extensive audit database. And because this database is electronic and spans all industries and organizations of all sizes, we can collate accurate and detailed information quickly.

How does it work?

We carry out an initial assessment to collect the information. Our expert auditors can even benchmark internal performance by measuring management systems across different sites if your organization spans a number of locations. We can then produce a company average that empowers you to identify areas where performance is peaking and where there are opportunities to improve it. And we can help you establish progress with further assessments that take place regularly, depending on your size, location and needs.

What are the benefits?

We provide insight into the management systems in place across your entire organization as well as how you compare to your sector. This means we can spot internal and industry trends, combining performance assessment with an analysis of risks that may hold you back. And with this knowledge to hand you can make strategic decisions to prevent and reduce these risks. You can also make relevant changes based on identified areas of lower performance – or help higher performing systems to stay that way. BSI Excellerator maps out clear paths for improvement, even if you are doing well, and shows you how you can do even better.

What happens next?

Our work doesn't stop at delivering the report. We can support you in developing your management systems through training, self assessment tools, information services, product testing service, audit management software and much more. Your report will provide all the information you need to choose the improvements you want to make. And we will continue to monitor your management systems over time, tracking how the actions you take drive business performance.

Why BSI?

We do more than just check standards; we invent them and set them.

Our 60,000 certified customers trust us and the service we deliver as one of the world's largest and most experience certification bodies. We've audited thousands of management systems applying the same standards to each so we can genuinely benchmark performance. And we work in partnership, continuing to support you once our training, audits or reports are delivered – working with you to make excellence a habit because nothing says confidence like a BSI mark.
